DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of (the compounds/compositions of Group I, claims 1-25) and the species of analog 1283 (Table 1A, p. 22 of the instant specification) in the replies filed on April 20, 2009 and July 13, 2009 is acknowledged.

Claims 11-24, 26 and 27 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention/specie, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-10 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nakanishi et al (WO 96/22962).

Claims 1-10 and 25 are drawn to the spermine analog 1283 (Table 1A, p. 22 of the instant specification) and pharmaceutical compositions comprising spermine analog 1283 (p. 91, compound 37a).

Nakanishi et al (WO 96/22962) teaches spermine analog 1283 and pharmaceutical compositions comprising spermine analog 1283 (p. 27, lines 11-35 and p. 91, compound 37a). Nakanishi et al does not explicitly teach that spermine analog 1283 induces the expression of full-length antizyme; however this activity flows from the physical properties of the compound and is necessarily present. It is noted that In re Best, 562 F.2d 1252, 195 USPQ 430 (CCPA 1977) and In re Fitzgerald et al., 619 F.2d 67, 205 USPQ 594 (CCPA 1980) discuss the support of rejections wherein the prior art discloses subject matter which there is reason to believe inherently includes functions that are newly cited or is identical to a product instantly claimed. In such a situation the burden is shifted to the applicants to "prove that subject matter shown to be in the prior art does not possess characteristic relied on" (205 USPQ 594, second column, first full paragraph).
